*Media Production Services: Who, What, Where,
How and Why?*

Jessica Weaver-Kenney

James Madison University

Abstract: How can you use media to enhance your students learning experience? Learn how Media Production Services handles the technical aspects of video shooting and editing to help faculty create instructional content.

Making and Using Media for Flipped and Blended Classrooms

Eva Strawbridge

Cassie Williams

James Madison University

Abstract: In our flipped and blended classrooms, we each produce content meant to enhance learning. We will briefly discuss and demonstrate some technologies and approaches we have used to create and share this media with our students. We will also discuss issues of student investment and assessment in these class structures.
